A GREAT Southern sports club, which had its very first general meeting just 17 days after World War II ended, celebrated its 75th birthday last weekend with the unveiling of a new mural.

Mount Barker Bowls and Sporting Club celebrated the anniversary on Saturday with fanfare, friends and finger food.

In addition to the party was the unveiling of the new celebratory mural, created by Mount Barker Police Sergeant-in-Charge David Johnson and local artists Andy Dolphin and George Corke.

Sgt Johnson said the original plan was to simply create a new sign to advertise the club.

“But then we were discussing the 75th and thought, why not take advantage of the mural trail that we are growing?” he said.

“We did it over a couple of weeks, but we worked on the design for 40 or 50 hours.”

Sgt Johnson said it was an honour to be asked to participate in the 75th anniversary.

Club President Fred Mentha was excited to have the new look mural completed ahead of this weekend’s bowls carnival.

Club members Hazel Rutter and Colin Toone were also awarded life memberships during the party.

The original Mount Barker Bowling and Croquet Club was established on September 19, 1945.

It was incorporated in 1949, changed to Mount Barker Bowling Club in 1966 and renamed again in 1994 to its current name.

The club’s first bowling green was opened on February 6, 1949 and the original committee consisted of President G. Duckett, Vice Presidents J. Bavin and C. Mitchell, Secretary and Treasurer L. Hart, Auditor K. Sweetapple, and committee members Thompson, James, Wilson and Sweetapple.

Women were invited to form a committee and be guests at the club in 1948.

The first beers poured at the club were on March 25, 1950.

In 2015, the club received a new cool room and a bar upgrade and built an internal dart board and photo wall three years later.

Hearing dog provides safe ears

ASHLEIGH FIELDING

AN ALBANY woman, whose hearing loss has affected her life, has benefited from the care of a furry friend thanks to the generosity of a local fund-raising group.

Cheryl Colman applied to Australian-Smith Senior Coats Line Club when she realized her family needed a new hearing dog, as her son wants a hearing assistance dog was getting close to retirement.

The group log on to a service, contributing money from various stalls and bargaining to help.

The group supported Ms Colman through Australian-Smith Senior Coats Line Club, which has provided hearing assistance dogs to a wide range of people across the country since 1998.

Ms Colman said her hearing ability had been strengthened.

ALBANY Summer School organisers are encouraging residents to ‘have an adventure’ this year with a program of more than 50 classes.

Students from kindergarten through to Year 8 left parents and staff gobsmacked by their theatrical skills, entertaining the crowd with the likes of Shakespeare, Cockles of the Overflow and an original poem about Kangaroo.

A poem that particularly tickled parents was those students with the title: the world recited interesting stories. Many parents and children were interested in the animals and interesting stories that were performed.

DANGEROUS ASSERTIONS

THE Black Lives Matter movement and some Democrats assert that racism is glaringly evident and that George Floyd’s death is the end of the moral arc. Both of these contentions may be false, one possibly true but logically both cannot be valid. The US Democratic claim that “Black Joe Biden has the power and the money to tell Obama what to do” is baseless. The valid point that white Americans (people on race) is that black elected Obama President in 2008 and 2012.

POLITICAL HYPOCRISY

RECENT calls by Minister for Home Affairs Peter Dutton and Prime Minister Scott Morrison for the Queensland Government to have more compassion are ridiculous. It was Mr Dutton who warned Australians that a US-style program could make life harder for immigration officials, who saw the medical evacuation of seriously ill men, women and children from Manus and Nauru.

Mr Morrison and Mr Dutton keep referring to two or three- half years on Nauru. Children aged as young as nine self-harmed and made repeated suicide attempts in these years. Amnesia in the Australian legislated. Australian religious groups had nothing to say of Federal Court determination to transfer desperate kids from Nauru, the kids as a time. As monstrous cost, and

History

In 1840, the Albany Memorial Park Cemetery was established on the site of a former naval cemetery. It was initially used for the burial of convict laborers and military personnel who served in the Napoleonic Wars.

In 1848, the first burial service took place in the cemetery, with the remains of Dr Collie, a prominent early 19th century doctor, being interred there. The cemetery continued to be used as a burial ground for many years, with numerous private citizens and public figures being laid to rest in its grounds.

The cemetery was expanded and renovated several times over the years, with the addition of various monuments and markers to honor the individuals buried there. In 1903, the cemetery was granted the status of a heritage place, signifying its importance to the community.

Today, the Albany Memorial Park Cemetery remains an important location for the community, serving as a place of reflection and remembrance for those who have passed away. It is a testament to the importance of history and the value of preserving the memories of those who have lived before us.

Tap into region’s tourism potential

HAVING worked in hospitality in the Great Southern for 16 years, one of my favourite regions to visit are the small towns that are blown away with what we have to offer. They are pleasantly surprised by the number of attractions to see, activities to try and places to taste. You can’t help but stop and explore and the range of tastes on offer is beyond words. The food and beverage sector is booming. In 2019, 410,150 Western Australians visited Ball and many more Perth people than usual visited the South West in 2019. Despite the negative effects of COVID-19, a huge benefit for our region is the closure of the WA border and the resulting increase in regional WA tourism. There is a growing number of people who would like to visit our area and spend their holidays here. We should encourage our staff to show our country the potential of what we have to offer. If we can show that pride in our industry is providing for our community and providing for our tourism facilities, then we can quickly attract visitors from around the world. The tourism industry in the Great Southern is growing at a rapidly increasing rate. We have a huge range of activities and experiences to offer. We have excellent tourism infrastructure and services, including a range of accommodation options, restaurants, bars, shopping centres and other attractions. We have a dedicated team of tourist information officers who can assist you with any questions you may have. We also have a range of restaurants and cafes that offer a wide variety of food options. We have a range of activities to offer, including sightseeing, hiking, mountain biking, fishing, boating and more. We also have a range of accommodation options, including luxury hotels, budget motels, self-contained apartments and holiday homes. We have a range of events and festivals throughout the year, including the Obley Cheese Festival, the Albany Garlic Festival and the Albany Freo Night. We also have a range of shops and boutiques that offer a wide variety of products, including clothing, accessories, jewellery, books and more.

Flash Gordon (1980)
Director: Mike Hodges
USA. 119 mins. Just watched the remastered movie on DVD.

This is great for people with all ages, but the movie also included a Blu-ray disc with a 1080p copy of the movie. The story is about a man who is sent to the planet of Ming the Merciless, who is the ruler of the universe. The man is then sent to the planet of Earth to help the people there. The movie is a science fiction classic, and it is well worth watching. It is a classic movie that is still enjoyed by people today.

Flash Gordon (1980)

Flash Gordon is a classic science fiction movie that was released in 1980. The movie stars Sam J. Jones as Flash Gordon, along with Sean Connery as Ming the Merciless. The movie is about a man who is sent to the planet of Ming the Merciless, who is the ruler of the universe. The man is then sent to the planet of Earth to help the people there. The movie is a science fiction classic, and it is well worth watching. It is a classic movie that is still enjoyed by people today.

The acting is at times enjoyable, even painful to watch. Sam J. Jones is sad, and the reason for this is twofold. Firstly, the dialogue is completely terrible, beingServe and share your business.

Elegant farmhouse built to impress

IT IS hard to imagine a time when WA Country Builders and Rural Building Company weren’t a part of the building community in the Great Southern. For those that keep a keen eye on the design of modern homes, the team at both of these companies deserves a round of applause... And with the birth and development of the Rural Building Company, WA Country Builders have really broken out into the community in the Great Southern.

For those that keep a keen eye on the design of modern homes that fit perfectly on large blocks and absorb the nature around them, the Great Southern is loved for. Elegant farmhouse built to impress.

Rural Building Company Principal Designer Robert Kirkovski had a clear vision when designing the Milpara Estate. “The goal was to design a spacious and free-flowing farmhouse built to impress in Albany. The four-bedroom, two-bathroom homestead is anticipated to open early November. Comfortable in any rural or semi-rural setting, the farmhouse delivers big spaces and indoor/outdoor living that people come to expect from a grand country home.”

Swinging big band era back

SOMETHING of the Great Southern’s best musical instruments, classic old-school sound, and the region’s best musicians. Glorious music and dramatic lighting are the focus of Southern Soul at the Discovery Centre. The band is fronted by the Commitments, with a big sound and high energy show that will leave you breathless.

The soundtracks to The Commitments, with a very rare introduction to local musicians and rhythm and blues. "You can’t believe what you see, and what you hear," said a local committee member.

"We’ve had a piece band that was very big to get going in the local music scene," he said, "but we’ve decided we may as well fill the void and set up again to fill the void in the local music scene." The secret ingredient is the region’s new supergroup, Southern Soul.

The rhythm section is comprised of four classically-trained and experienced musicians in the region, with four vocalists, a four-piece brass section and a tight rhythm section. The band is fronted by dynamic vocalist Rusty Black, with keyboardist Helen Mermagis and Jen Creton.

The booking fee for this special day is $420,000. The booking fee includes all travel and accommodation for the performers and band members.

Wild Walpole focus of display

PERTH: Visual artist Malcolm Lindsay is exhibiting his latest collection of colourful abstract landscapes in Walpole over the next two weeks.

Wallpaper Walpole member, Malcolm Lindsay, was invited to exhibit at Purvis Gallery until October 18 and present Lindsay’s interpretation of Walpole and surrounding landscapes.

Lindsay exhibited at Purvis Gallery when it first opened and was keen to exhibit with the gallery again.

“The theme of the exhibition was obvious when I asked myself, why was I exhibiting in Walpole?”

“The answer was that I really wanted to live in Walpole at all cost to immerse myself into the isolation and pristine, natural environment, the feeling of ‘Walcot landscapes’,” Lindsay said.

Lindsay said the focus of the Wild Walpole exhibition had brought him back to the area many times.

“Thinking about what makes Walpole on earth, I had to say it’s the Walpole Country. It’s real beauty,” he said.

The trees, water and landscape of the wild Walpole were on display from September 18 to October 18.

Malcolm Lindsay and his dog Ellie with his painting “Tideland!”

Lindsay has worked as a commercial artist and illustrator for his entire adult career and exhibited at multiple galleries.

He has worked previously with pastels and acrylics on acrylics.

His work ranges from representational to abstraction.

“We hope malcolm and his works will be of interest to many and maybe inspire a few to try and create and get involved in the arts for themselves,” said Albany Art Group member Ros Jenke.

Lindsay has won two prizes since the first time since the first time he was seen all the work here thoughtfully in its own space, for the first time. Lindsay said.

“Using smartphones in cars is dumb,” said Dr O’Donnell.

Now new research has revealed the underlying factors behind distracted driving, and delivering the brain-hacking message.

One ping – new message from Facebook – ping – your pic just got more likes – ping – you’re on the road, and you were going to turn on or do something different – ping -

“Three is one of the first symptoms to look at on all drivers using their smartphones while driving, beyond just calling and texting, and the factors that significantly influence that use,” she said.

The research found that Australians don’tswitch off their phones when driving, despite most thinking it’s an effective way to reduce their use.

For young Aussie drivers, the experts rated holding the phone as the second most distracting task while driving, after talking on the phone.

“The experts rated holding the phone as the second most distracting task while driving, after talking on the phone,” Dr O’Donnell said.

Taking the newfound insights, the AAA has applied this research to create a resource designed to break the nexus between young drivers, their smartphones while driving, and their actual use.

“We want Australians to aspire to be better, safer drivers on the road. Have a plan, ditch the distractions, and drive in the moment.”

Kowald inspires Narrikup victory

MICHAEL ROBERTS

NARRIKUP have sealed their Albany Netball Association championship glory for the first time since 2012, leading from start to finish in a high-intensity grand final encounter on Saturday afternoon.

Sheridan Kowald was the hero for Narrikup,她的 team's victory was a result of her dominant role in the game. Kowald, who had an impressive game-high 15 points in the third quarter, was named player of the game.

It was much of the same in the second quarter, with Narrikup maintaining their momentum from the first, eventually winning the game 44-34.

The Redbacks had a strong start, but were unable to maintain their momentum throughout the game. Meanwhile, Narrikup were the more clinical team, converting their opportunities to take an early lead. They were unstoppable in front of goal, with Kowald leading the charge.

While it was far from a classic game of hockey, Kowald's performance was beyond doubt. Playing her first year in the league, she showed incredible determination and leadership to guide her team to victory.

Narrikup put their opponents to the sword, scoring Railways by three goals to one in the first half. Kowald looked untouchable, scoring Railways by three goals to one in the first half. It was much of the same in the second half, with Narrikup going on to win by 10 goals.

In the women's A-grade final, Narrikup's victory was a result of their clinical display and strong teamwork. Kowald's performance was a testament to her dedication and hard work throughout the season.
Albany’s midfield warrior Tom Maatin keeps his feet and looks for options in the clash against North Albany on Saturday. Royals won by 43 points to book a grand final berth against Denmark-Walpole after they beat Railways on Sunday.
